v.20112023

OUR PROGRAMS

Centacare currently offers a number of relationship programs.

For couples planning their marriage there are two options of Pre-Marriage Programs, either the group program To Us or the individual couple program Prepare Enrich.

We offer the Enrich program for couples already in a long-term relationship wishing to enhance their relationship.

All our programs are conducted by qualified facilitators trained in relationship education.

To Us

This is a relationship program for couples who are intending to marry. The To Us program is offered in a friendly group setting. The content is relationship education based and covers areas such as communication, problem solving, decision making, family of origin, managing conflict, and spirituality and marriage.

Prepare Enrich

This relationship program is for couples who are intending to marry. The program is offered on a one couple basis and is relationship education based. Each partner completes a questionnaire designed to help them appreciate their unique relationship. Prepare Enrich helps couples to study, understand, and communicate openly about the many things that are important in their relationship.

This program is offered face to face or video link.
